

Intern WALL OF FAME

Rachel Mimken
(Graphic Design and Business Marketing)
Snack Shack CEO
The Snack Shack

I started out at the Snack Shack as a worker and then became a Marketing intern the following semester. After having such a great experience in my first internship I went on to become the CEO intern this semester running the place. It definitely is a headache at times but I am gaining once-in-a-lifetime lessons in business that will help me later on. I manage and work with four other interns that help me to run the Snack Shack and improve its brand for future administrations. I would absolutely recommend not only interning at the Snack Shack but anywhere. Internships, no matter if they turn out how you expected or go horrible, provide you with learning experiences BEFORE you go out into the workforce that will aid you in making right decisions the first time around.

The Career Development Office is the un-sung hero of our campus. They are here to help you with just about any and all concerns you might have about getting ready to step out into the world after Fredonia so stop in whenever you get a chance!